

“Survival”-Deutsch

German skills for university and everyday life

Organizer: The “Deutschkurse bei der Universität München e.V.” in cooperation with the LMU International Office

Language course “Survival“-Deutsch

- full term: 10 weeks à 3 teaching units (total 30 teaching units)
- language level: European Reference Frame: A1/A2
- target group: The course is designed for students and visiting scientists with no or little previous knowledge of German, who study or research in English.
- contents: Basic grammar and skills for oral and written communication in academic every day life.
- lecturer: Dr. Maria Wolf
- time and place: tuesday, 6-8.15 p.m., Richard-Wagner-Str. 10, room 104
- start: tuesday, 05/05/2009, end: 14/07/2009
- enrolment until: 24/04/2009
- fee: 120,00 €

Fees and registration

Our courses are open to students, PhD students and post-docs

Fees: The fees are to be paid until 24/04/2009.

Our bank account:

Deutschkurse für Ausländer

HypoVereinsbank München

Konto-Nr. 1 890 012 872

BLZ 700 202 70

from abroad:

IBAN DE09 7002 0270 1890 0128 72

SWIFT (BIC) HYVEDEMMXXX

note to payee: „Wissenschaftssprache Deutsch“ and the name of the course participant.

The registration deadline is April 24th 2009.

The online registration is possible on the following website:

www.dkfa.lmu.de/wissenschaftssprache

Attention: “Survival“-Deutsch course participants do NOT have to pass the online test!

For individual counselling and more information please contact Ana da Silva M.A. sending your email to dasilva@dkfa.de